The Association of Consulting Engineers of Ireland (ACEI) will host the 2019 EFCA Annual General Meeting and Conference in Dublin, Ireland. Some outstanding venues have been booked to welcome delegates over the two days, including the conference itself at the historic Dublin Castle. Delegates will include CEOs from consulting engineering firms in Ireland and all over Europe as well as CEOs and other representatives from many European consulting engineering associations. The event will provide a great opportunity for senior people in the consulting engineering sector from across Europe to meet and network, in particular at the exclusive CEO lunch with international keynote speaker, Economist David McWilliams.
